For your Consideration: Labor Day Weekend

Tomorrow is September 1st, the meteorological start of the Fall season. And while the calendar has turned, here are three really good things to do this month

First, take advantage of the opportunity to keep sailing. Wianno YC offers a shoulder season for both C420s and Optis on Sundays. WYC membership is not required and the program is a great chance to get more tiller time and some feedback from some very good coaches.

Secondly, there is the Newport International Boat show in mid-Sept. I went last year and had a blast just looking at all the boats and accessories. I made an extensive wish-list. Take the whole family or explore alone.

Finally, at the end of the month is the National Sailing Hall of Fame's Youth Panel at the New York YC in Newport, RI. There are some very knowledgeable guests invited and the trip to Harbour Court could be very eye opening for your children who have dreams of Olympic and international glories.

More info on all three activities is listed below.
