For your Consideration:

Were back. It was a monumentally fall coming right on the heels of a very busy summer. SM Sailing got pushed to the back-burner for many of us in the leadership group, but as the horizon starts to loom brighter, we are turning our attention towards this summer in an effort to make this new near normal experience great for all.

3) Jobs: Have a job to fill? Post the advertisement on the SM Sailing website. Send a PDF of the position to the SM Sailing Administrator.

4) Training: As with last year, Level-1 Instructors will need to take (and pass) a 10-day on-line course before completing a 2-day in-person course in order to be certified. On-line classes have already begun (I am teaching one this week) and are scheduled to run each week through July. It is highly recommended that those seeking certification for this summer register for an on-line class soon. We are working on setting up in-person courses for June this month and will post information as it becomes available on the SM Sailing Website. Updates Information regarding Level-2 Instructor, Level-3 Racing Coach, Race Management, and Judges courses will be posted as well.
